4m Combine Function with Flair

A performance floor that delivers both durability and style for high-technology company Zytek reflects the trend for aesthetics in today's flooring industry.

4m installed Flowcrete Flowshield at Zytek's state-of-the-art new centre, in Fradley Park, Lichfield.

Zytek are pioneers in automotive electronic engineering, designing cutting-edge software and hardware for the car industry.

At the Lichfield site, the company specialises in a wide-range of concepts, including electric and hybrid vehicles. Zytek also has two other sites in the UK, which specialise in motorsport.

At Fradley Park, the floor has been installed in areas including the boiler room, goods in and out and the workshop. Within the workshop area, test vehicles are assembled and the floor needed to be able to withstand wheeled traffic and certain chemicals.

The floor was installed in mid grey, to help with the overall aim to create a clean, fresh look for the facility.

Andrew Hawley, Zytek's projects manager said: "The floor fits in with the image of the industry we are in. It is hard-wearing and looks good."
