Acc Shine Again

ACC Flooring were contacted, via their website by a major printing company.

The customer had been painting a production floor area himself for many years, however, he was now under pressure to have the area transformed into a high tech production area.

ACC Flooring carried out a full and detailed site survey and after discussing the client's requirements; it was agreed on a Type 5 system, namely Altroflow applied at 3mm.

The project was planned for a weekend to minimise disruption.

After the area was mechanically prepared, Altroflow was applied incorporating a "scratch coat" to ensure the concrete substrate was fully sealed.

The new system now provides a long-term solution and compliments the very high standards that the customers maintain.

The system was installed all in accordance with the manufacturers instructions and Altro's recommended cleaning schedule has been discussed and implemented.

The client now has a resin flooring system to be proud of.
