CFJ Awards 2009 – Best Resin Floor

Altro is a world leading manufacturer and supplier of flooring and walling. From ceilings to doors, the company supplies hygienic, safe and practical yet decorative solutions for all interior environments – without compromising on function or design.

Altro's resin floors range from the textured to very smooth, from plain to patterned and from matt to highly reflective. Altro's popular PU range boasts the fastest curing time in the UK market, the PU resin range combines wear and slip resistance with outstanding protection against aggressive chemical attack. With tolerance of temperatures between -40°C and 120°C, the floors are ideal for applications in extreme environments, from freezing rooms to hot kitchens.

With a fast track installation and moisture tolerance, contractors are able to complete their job quickly and easily and are ideal for industrial and commercial buildings where downtime has to be kept to a minimum.

Also from the Altro resin livery is vetro, a high design resin which provides a new dimension to any floor. Available in seven colours, thousands of glass beads are suspended in the resin, enabling a wide array of design effects to be achieved, combining colour, depth and sparkle. The textured finish offers moderate slip and impact resistance and is easy to clean.

Kevin Cook, Altro's technical sales manager said: "We are absolutely delighted to have won the Best Resin Floor Award for the third year in a row. Contractors tell us they enjoy working with our resins and value our comprehensive support, which leads to a great deal of repeat business and delighted end users. We have some exciting new additions to our resin range launching later this year, which will ensure our customers benefit from the latest technical innovations which make our products truly market leading.”
