

Industrial Floor Treatments Ltd

NEW WEBSITE FOR INDUSTRIAL FLOOR TREATMENTS

Recognising the value of the website as a shop window for their services and to showcase their prestigious portfolio - Industrial Floor Treatments has launched a new look website at www.ift.co.uk. The website is now able to properly display the full range of services offered and helps provide existing and potential clients with a full visual idea on the company's product and range of abilities.

As well as details on all their services, news pages, and case studies, the company has approached their clients to see if they would be willing to provide testimonials. They were delighted with the response received and particularly proud to see the high regard in which the company is held.

IFT recently secured Achilles accreditation. This internationally recognised supply chain standard involves a full audit of H&S procedures, its compliance with Environmental & Quality systems together with Social & Ethical Controls. This sits alongside accreditation already secured through Safecontractor and helps to provide existing and future clients with full confidence in the standards set by the company.
