

MORE DENHOLM PERSONNEL GAIN THEIR NVQs

Denholm Industrial Services take training very seriously and having been the first preparation company in the country to qualify for the NVQ level 2 in Prepare and Profile Substrates in 2009, all their workforce are now holders of the qualification. The latest successful candidates are: Charlie Hackney, Richard Oxby, Stacie Farrar, Toby Nash and James Hughes.

The company offers a complete range of surface preparation for substrates from concrete through to steel including: closed circuit track and vertical blasting, open abrasive blasting, concrete grinding, scarifying, hydro blasting, bead blasting and all methods of mechanical preparation. Having invested heavily in the latest technology to ensure minimal disruption to clients and their customers, its state of the art equipment is capable of removing most coverings and finishings, including latex, polyurethane, epoxies, concrete, self levelling compounds and waterproof decking systems.

The Surface Preparation division of Denholm Industrial Services is based in Scunthorpe, is ISO 9001:2000 registered and included in the Constructionline register of pre-qualified construction services.
