

National Flooring launches new website

National Flooring is pleased to announce the launch of our new website. Designed by Titman Firth, based in Glinton, Peterborough, the website has been redesigned and rebranded to offer dramatic improvements in appearance, navigability, accessibility and usability.

The website contains many new features including sector specific advice, improved product information / downloads and additional services now offered by National Flooring. Significant layout improvements have also made it easier for users to locate information and follow links to gather related data to help when specifying a product.

As well as more comprehensive information, National Flooring's new website features a knowledge centre, which allows users to ask questions that will be impartially answered. The questions and answers will be posted to the site to act as a resource to help users learn the facts about resin flooring solutions.

National Flooring continually aims to improve the accessibility of information and enhance our customer service, and therefore will be launching a new client area to the website in the next few months. The password protected area will allow customers easier access to information including, product specific data and site survey request forms.

The new website can be viewed at www.nationalflooring.co.uk

Editorial: 20th May 2009

For further information please contact Anna Simpson at National Flooring on 01778 343670 or email anna@nationalflooring.co.uk

Notes to editors:

National Flooring are resin flooring experts that specialise in the installation of Degafloor MMA resins. National Flooring work throughout the UK in a wide variety of industry sectors from heavy industrial to commercial use.