VI Distribution show miracles do sometimes happen

VI Distribution Limited was asked to perform a miracle by Guy Hogg, director of Polydeck Resins.

He wished to supply his staff with polo shirts, trousers and overalls when starting a new contract, but left the ordering of them until two days before they commenced work. The problem was that he also required his logo embroidered on the garments, but had no artwork for the embroidery.

The order was accepted by VI Distribution, who immediately set to work and successfully completed the task. Guy was impressed. He commented “We always receive an excellent level of customer service from VI, but this time I was amazed. I thought the task I set them was impossible, but they delivered on time”.

VI Distribution can be contacted via their website www.vidistribution.co.uk

The photograph shows Mark Clarke from VI Distribution Limited delivering the clothing to Gavin Tidball, Director of Polydeck, just in time to kit out his staff.
