RSL helps News International make more headlines

Resin Surfaces Limited (RSL) has provided the innovative products for a fast-track project for UK media giant, News International, completed by Datum Industrial Flooring Limited, the UK's largest independent resin flooring contractor.

News International, the UK subsidiary of News Corporation, publishes a number of the country's most famous and respected national newspapers, including the Times, the Sun and the News of the World. The print packing area in its Knowsley operation was new, but badly cracked, and the company needed a dust free, colour-demarkated floor that could be fitted and fully operational in a timescale of just 16 hours.

Datum Industrial Flooring used RSL's Fastcure range, which allowed the floor to be cured and back in full use after a fitting period that started at 4:00am and finished at 8:00pm the same day.

Dick Lovegrove, managing director of Datum Industrial Flooring, said: "RSL was, once again, the ideal choice for this project. The hugely time-sensitive nature of this job meant that a fast track solution was essential, and RSL's Fastcure range delivers this with no compromise on quality.

"The products are low odour, low taint and safe, meeting the stringent health and safety requirements of our installers and of the employees of News International."

Ivy Wroe, managing director of RSL, said: "We have worked hard to create a range of products that can be fitted to the tightest of deadlines, and this is a perfect example of why it is so important.

"It's great to be working with Datum Industrial Flooring again – we've built a strong relationship with Dick and the team over a number of successful projects, and this is yet another occasion where Datum's expertise and RSL's products were a match made in heaven."
