

PRESS RELEASE

Success for FeRFA's NVQ candidates

Since FeRFA launched the NVQ in In-situ Resin Flooring to its members 3 years ago, the number of candidates completing their NVQ level 2 continues to grow steadily as more companies recognise the value of using skilled and qualified employees.

Congratulations go to recent achievers:

Kemtile Ltd: David Turner, Carl Turner, Stephen Carter and Andrew Jackson

John Lord: Anthony Pennington, Gary Lomax, Darren Brookes, Aaron Lea, Ian Rafferty, Ian Walker and David Hallam

Respol Ltd: Stuart Turley Mark Preston and Mark Hesbrook

and obtaining their NVQs via the FeRFA apprenticeship scheme:

Fresco industrial Ltd: Jason Hall and Kevin McNulty

Total Protection Ltd: Gary Mathams

Surtech: Adam Kenningale

Since the NVQ in resin flooring was launched three years ago, 124 candidates employed by FeRFA members have achieved their NVQ L2 and a further 31 are currently working towards their qualification.

FeRFA members are well aware of the importance of training their workforce and are demonstrating their commitment to this by putting more and more candidates through the NVQ process both through on site assessment and the apprenticeship scheme.
