

Total Protection is a leading specialist contractor within the resin surfacing and coatings industry and are looking to recruit Resin Surfacing Applicators. Experience in resin application is an advantage but not essential, however inexperienced applicants should ideally have either a floor screeding or plastering background.

Applicants should hold the relevant CSCS card and a full UK drivers licence.

The successful candidates will be working alongside our existing, experienced applicators and will receive full training in every aspect of high quality resin surface installation.

We offer a competitive salary starting from £26,000 - £31,200 per annum, depending on experience, with the possibility of overtime available.
